Homecoming features fun, football

Homecoming activities return to the traditional this week for West Texas State University with class reunions, bonfire and pep rally, carnival, parade, barbecue and football.

The official activities get underway tonight and will continue through Saturday night.

Miss WTSU, Seral K. Strecker, 19, of Amarillo, a sophomore music major, opened homecoming week on the campus Monday by lighting the two torches at the campus entrance. The torches, extinguished two years ago because of the energy crisis, will remain lighted until Monday.

Tonight, students will participate in a giant bonfire and pep rally near the university police building north of the activities center.

Another student event, the annual homecoming carnival, will set up from 4 to 10 p.m. Friday on the lawn between the education building and the museum.

The Class of 1926 of WTSU will begin arriving in Canyon Friday for an open house reunion at the Ted Reid home, 600 18th St.

The reunion for the class will begin again at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in the activities center.

At 10 a.m., the traditional homecoming parade will move into downtown Canyon and disband at the activities center. Theme of the parade, which has drawn about 50 entries, is "Panhandle Centennial."

The annual meeting of all alumni will be at 10:45 a.m. at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

Then, at 11 a.m., barbecue will be served on the lawn area between Terrill Hall and the Cornette Library. Tickets for the meal will be $3 per plate, but will be free to holders of WTSU football game tickets.

The Class of 1926 will have the Golden Graduate Luncheon at noon in the east dining hall of the university.

At 2:30 p.m., the Buffaloes will meet Drake University in Kimbrough Stadium for the homecoming football game.

At halftime during the game, two distinguished alumni will be honored by the WTSU Alumni Association.

They are Milton "Buff" Morris and Ralph Wayne.

Morris, a 1934 graduate of WTSU, is best known for his work with the Opportunity Plan, Inc., an organization to finance college educations for needy students.

After graduation from WTSU, Morris became principal of the Demonstration School on campus and served in that capacity from 1942 to 1947. In addition, he was director of men's dormitories and organized the first intramural program on campus. He was secretary of the Ex-Students Association from 1950 to 1963 and left that position to head the Opportunity Plan, Inc., which he developed.

Wayne, a 1953 graduate of WTSU, served as directors of news and public affairs at KFDA-TV in Amarillo after graduation. He was elected to the state legislature in 1964 and served in the House until 1972. Currently, he is executive vice president of Herman Bennett Co.

and is owner-president of Panchandle Broadcasting. He lives in Brownwood.

A homecoming dance and breakfast will conclude homecoming activities for the university. The dance begins at 8 p.m. in Amarillo's Villa Inn convention center and will end at 1 a.m. following breakfast.

Tickets for the dance are $6 per person and include the breakfast price. Music for the dance will be provided by Spice.

Seral Strecker, 19, of Amarillo, Miss WTSU for 1975, climbed a ladder Monday afternoon to ignite the two Alumni Association torches at the university entry gate. Miss Strecker was selected Miss WTSU last weekend, and lights the torches to begin homecoming week activities on campus.

CISD lawyer advises no appeal over land annexation decision

Attorney for the Canyon School District said Tuesday he will recommend the local school board not appeal a Texas Education Commissioner decision which detaches 160 acres of development land from the district.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs said he has not yet reached a conclusion on what action he will advise the school board to take on the possible appeal.

"If the board asks for my recommendation," Attorney Elton Cox said, "I'll recommend it not perfect the appeal."

Cox, who represented the school board in Austin last January at an appeal hearing before a deputy education commissioner, said the appeal is unnecessary and could endanger a pending bond election and issue.

He cited statements from the school district financial advisor, Bob Davis, indicating bonds for construction of new schools could not be issued until the matter was resolved.

"It would constitute litigation," Cox said of an appeal effort, "and it would affect the bond issue."

Cox said the recent change in personnel on the Randall County Board of School Trustees would appear to make an appeal unnecessary. Don Marsh, an outspoken proponent of allowing Amarillo to annex Canyon school lands, was unseated last April on the board and an Amarillo insurance agent Gordon Hendricks replaced him.

The Canyon school board has until Oct. 30 to file an appeal with the Texas Board of Education of the education commissioner's decision to uphold an October 1974 ruling by the Randall County school board allowing Amarillo to annex the Glendale subdivision, a 160-acre tract in South Amarillo.

Jacobs and Cox have been studying the possible avenues of appeal since the commissioner's ruling was made public two weeks ago.

School board members are to consider the alternatives at their regular meeting next Tuesday.

A well-known school attorney in Austin, J. C. Hinsley, who aided the school board in presenting its appeal case before the deputy education commissioner last January, has recommended an appeal of the decision.

However, Davis has warned that if bonds for new school construction are to be issued this fall no appeal should be made because an appeal would constitute litigation and the bonds would not be okayed for issue by the state attorney general.

If the school board decides not to appeal the decision, the Canyon district is to receive a flat payment from the Amarillo school district to cover the bonded indebtedness on the property and is to receive a tax return fee from developer Glen O'Dell.

According to a motion for detachment made by J. D. Barker of Canyon, county school trustee, in October 1974, the Amarillo district must pay to the Canyon district a pro-rated share of the bonded indebtedness of the school district for the land annexed to the Amarillo district.

That amount has tentatively been figured at about $3400.

In addition, the Amarillo district is to pay the Canyon district taxes collected or assessed on the 160-acre tract for a period of five years.

Robert Ashworth, superintendent of Amarillo schools, said (See CISD, Page 5)

Nine-month spending outrunning co. budget

Randall County officials will have to slow down on their spending rate for the last quarter of 1975 if the county budget is not to go in the red.

Figures compiled this week by County Auditor Betty Hodges indicate that if officials continue to spend for the final three months of the year as they have spent during the first nine months, the county budget will be overspent by as much as $100,000 and the expenditures will outdistance receipts for the year by about $60,000.

County commissioners, in an amended 1975 budget, have allowed disbursements of $1,371,000, but have anticipated income for the year at $1,403,063.

Expenditures for the first nine months of 1975 total $1,097,645, according to Mrs. Hodges' figures, just $200,000 below the budgeted total.

Officials have been spending an average of $121,960 per month during the year, and if that spending level is maintained during October, November and December, the expenditures for the year will total $1,463,525, or about $60,000 above projected income for the year and about $100,000 above projected expenditures.

General government expenditures for the nine months ended Sept. 30, have already outstripped budgeted expenditure estimates by about $90,000, according to the auditor's figures.

General government, which includes expenditures for hospitalization insurance, office supplies, telephone, meetings, postage and repairs and upkeep, has cost $35,164 so far this year. The budget approved by commissioners called for expenditures of $26,166.

Other county functions are still under the estimated 12-month expenditure level established in the amended budget.

However, officials exceeded the nine-month monthly expenditure average of $121,960 by about $3000 during September. During September expenditures totalled $124,459.

About $170,000 in estimated income is due to the county treasury before the end of the year. So (See SPENDING, Page 5)

Todd says he'll resign

Two more seats may be open on university regents board

Gov. Dolph Briscoe may have two more seats on the West Texas State University board of regents to fill in the near future, the News has learned.

At least two members of the board, members whose regular terms of office on the board are not due to expire in the near future, have indicated they are considering stepping down from the board.

Dick Todd, a Crowell farmer and rancher, confirmed Tuesday he will resign from the board "in the future."

Todd said he is not sure exactly when he will resign, but said the pressures from farming and ranching are such that he is unable to attend board meetings regularly.

Noting he had missed the last two regents meetings because of the schedule of his farming operation, Todd said he feels he can't give the time to the university he feels a regent should be able to give.

Todd was appointed by Briscoe to serve on the board about two years ago.

Another board member, who has served several years as a WTSU regent, is also expected to announce his resignation in the near future, a News source revealed.

The terms of three regents have already expired and Briscoe is now working on replacements for the three.

They are Cloyce K. Box of Dallas, chairman of the board since its formation in 1969; B. Raymond Evans of Tulsa, vice chairman of the board since 1969; and Jack Shelton of Amarillo, named to the board only about a year ago.

Box has said he is unsure whether he will seek another appointment to the board.

Terms for the three members expired Aug. 31, and regents have taken action officially on only one item of business since that date. They met in a special session last Friday in Houston to approve contract for construction of a new fine arts building on campus.

The regents are to meet again Oct. 27 on the campus here to discuss other business items. Box said last Friday he will not attend that session.

Other board members include Todd, Don Curry of Fort Worth, Wallace Harrell of Gonzales, Dee Osborne of Houston, Irby Carruth of Canyon and T. L. Roach of Amarillo.

Vows support of revision

Sherman hits Briscoe vote stand

Formal opposition announced Tuesday by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to the proposed new Texas Constitution shocked State Sen. Max Sherman, who told a Canyon audience Tuesday night the governor's reaction "will hurt" efforts to pass the document on Nov. 4.

Sherman, an unabashed proponent of all eight of the propositions which will be on the November ballot for voter consideration, said the governor has no reason to oppose at least one section on the ballot.

"I wish he had been neutral," Sherman said.

During his speech here to members and guests of the Texas Public Employees Association local chapter, Sherman said he had understood the governor would remain neutral on the constitution as a whole, while outlining those portions he favored and those with which he found fault.

"The governor had a great deal of input in the executive section," Sherman told the audience.

He said the governor and his staff worked with members of the constitutional convention on the proposed executive article and the convention adopted almost wholly the governor's recommendations.

"I think those in favor (of the constitution) will have to get busy and try to explain why they favor it," he said.

Sherman warned the audience to beware of those in public office who oppose the passage of all eight propositions on the ballot while in reality finding fault with only one portion of the document.

He termed "irresponsible" those officials who hope specific sections of the proposal will be defeated but work for defeat of all

County tax collector opposes new constitutional effort

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, Randall County tax collector, became the first local elected official to formally announce opposition to the proposed new Texas Constitution this week.

Mrs. Bruse has joined the steering committee of the state-wide Citizens to Preserve the Texas Constitution, an organization headed by Sen. Petyon McNight and headquartered in Austin.

Mrs. Bruse, who would under the proposed document set tax values for all taxing entities in the county, charged that the proposals will hike local taxes.

"The proposed new constitution will increase taxes and I think, as a tax collector, the people have had about all the taxation they can take," she said.

Mrs. Bruse said she feels annual legislative sessions would cost more in tax money.

She said the lack of a provision in the document for establishment of a board of equalization would also put a weighty burden on local taxpayers.

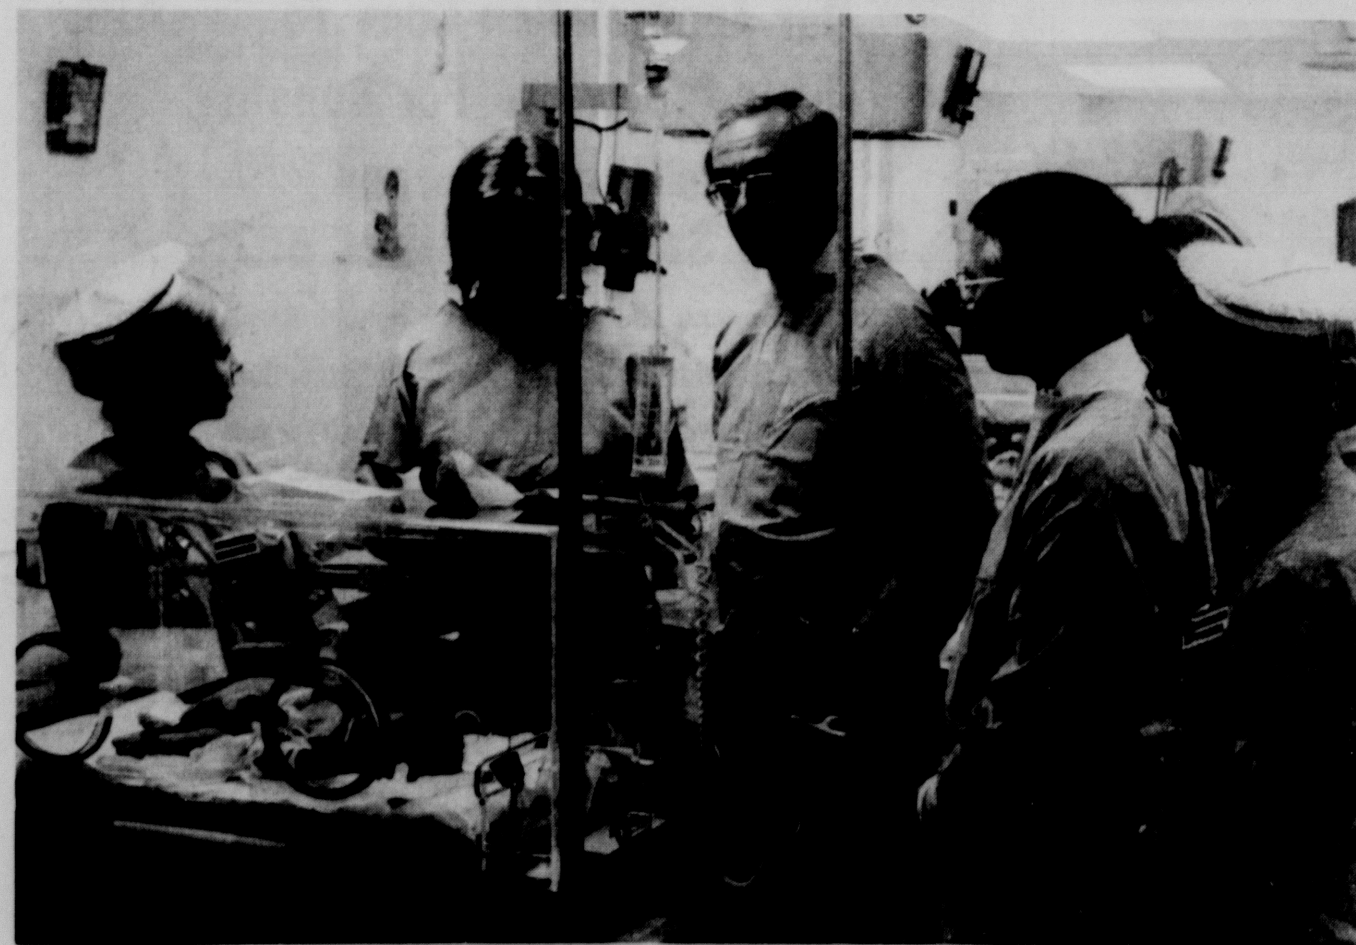

"A taxpayer would have to pay taxes under protest and then sue in district court for refund of taxes or equalization of their appraisal," she said. "Of course, this process will be quite expensive for the taxpayer, who will have no recourse."

Portions of proposition 5 on the Nov. 4 ballot, she said, would exempt from taxation many classes of property and people not now exempted under the law.

The proposition, she says, includes an exemption for "property owned by a disabled veteran of the armed services of the United States, by surviving spouse or minor children of a disabled veteran of the armed services of the United States whose life was lost while on ac-

Gene Howe PTA Hosts Open House

The Gene Howe Parent-Teacher Association met Monday night, Oct. 6th for an Open House for morning Kindergarten, First, Second and Third grade classes.

On Oct. 13th the Gene Howe PTA held an Open House for afternoon Kindergarten, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth grade classes.

The two coinciding PTA meetings were called to order by PTA President Karolyn Farmer.

Parents were welcomed and miscellaneous announcements were made. A membership report was made and as of Oct. 13th there were 550 PTA members at the school.

Dr. Nolan Clark spoke briefly on the need for and the possibilities of getting Lamont Drive widened.

Karolyn Farmer then introduced the PTA officers for this school year and turned the speakers stand over to Luther Lawless, principal of Gene Howe.

Mr. Lawless spoke briefly on the need for more schools and the up-coming Bond election. It was noted that on Oct. 6th Gene Howe had 601 registered students.

Teachers, aides and special helpers were introduced and the program was completed by curriculum directors, Vondean McGregor and Ruth Holladay, as they showed a slide presentation on the Canyon School System from elementary through High School.

The PTA meeting was adjourned by Karolyn Farmer and the parents then visited in their own child's room.

Refreshments were served in each room compliments of the PTA officers.

On Oct. 6th colors were posted by Weeblos, Sam Pender, Mike Winters, John Clark and Dan Wilsford of Pack 130, Den 4. Opening prayer was by Billy Edwards.

T-Anchor Ranch House To Be Dedicated Oct. 25

The T-Anchor Ranch Headquarters, probably the oldest building in the Panhandle, will be dedicated at its new home north of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum Annex Oct. 25 at 4 p.m.

The almost 100-year-old structure was moved from its original location on the West Texas State University farm north of Canyon, and is being restored to as it was in the late 1800s by the museum. An Eclipse windmill will be on display next to the headquarters.

The three-room headquarters, built by Charles Goodnight's brother-in-law Leigh Dyer in 1877, was the first such house in the northern 36 Texas counties. Dyer cut the cedar logs in the breaks and canyons near the Timber Creek Trail.

He was the first to plant an oat crop in the Texas Panhandle, which was eaten in the spring by a herd of buffalo. In 1878 Dyer sold his claim to the ranch, and the 225 sections of land were broken up and sold in 1902 after a long series of owners.

When WTSU acquired the house in 1927, officials removed the kitchen, bedroom and porch which had been added in 1906 by the J.L. Prichard family.

West Texas State agriculture students were the last people to occupy the cabin in the early 1960s. Modern conveniences such as wallpaper, sanitation facilities and cement and plaster were removed by museum workmen.

Dr. James Hanson, museum director, said he hesitates to move historical structures, but decided to move the cabin to prevent further deterioration.

Original material has been used to restore the house, but new cedar fence posts replaced a few of the badly rotted logs, Dr. Hanson explained. The roof was reshingled with new cedar, and fresh mud chinking was used between the logs.

New windows were also installed to replace the larger windows of one of Dyer's successors.

The cabin has a sleeping loft, in addition to the three bedrooms, which was entered by a trap door under the porch. One room served as the ranch office and another was the foreman's bedroom.

Lower rooms will contain hard-packed dirt floors, as the original structure, Dr. Hanson said.

Funeral Held For Mother Of City Resident

Funeral services were held Saturday, Oct. 11, at First Baptist Church of Seymour for Leah Ann Armstrong, 97, the mother of a Canyon resident, Mrs. J. D. Mounce.

Mrs. Armstrong died at Memorial Hospital in Throckmorton on October 9. She was born December 9, 1877 in Frankfort, Kentucky and was married to the late Frank M. Armstrong on November 12, 1893 and had nine children.

Among other local survivors is a grandson, Carol (Bud) Wallace, who makes his home with Mrs. Mounce in Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Moreland, left, glance through a book on The World of Rotary following Tuesday's regular Rotary Club meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ed

McLaughlin of Big Spring. McLaughlin is district governor for Rotary and paid a visit to the local club Tuesday. Moreland is president of the local club.

Waterfowl Naturalist Program Here Monday

"Field Identification of Waterfowl" will be the topic of biology professor, Dr. Derl Brooks Monday evening, Oct. 20, as he presents a public talk for the Society of Naturalists.

The program begins at 8 p.m. in Room 102 of the West Texas State University Science Building and the public is invited at no charge.

A film "Watching Wild Wings" will be presented along with a series of slides. The informational program is designed for the waterfowl hunting naturalist and for nature lovers who do not hunt.

Dr. Brooks joined the WT staff in 1965 and has been an avid ornithologist having taken on the responsibilities of teaching ornithology and the wildlife sciences at the university.

4-Hers Meet

Jowell 4-H Club met October 10 at the Jowell School Building with 15 members present as Mrs. Genelle Bourland of Merle Norman Cosmetics showed slides and presented a demonstration on "skin care."

The club membership discussed a Halloween party for October 31 and concluded the meeting with refreshments being served by Mrs. Allen Downing.

Canyon Teachers Pioneer In Training Program

By LAURIE TELFAIR

Gene Howe teachers will attend a one hour class each Monday before school opens to learn new methods of dealing with learning disabled children. The techniques will be used on three children from each class who have been selected with parental permission after the entire class was surveyed. "We tried to choose children who would benefit the most," Dr. Giles said. "We wanted to choose children who had not previously been identified as learning disabled. Children who perhaps had moved a great deal and who lacked basic skills. Or who seemed bright but were not relating well."

Loneliness can present learning problems, Dr. Giles said. "Some of these children are just lonely. This is one problem we are seeing more of these days."

The teachers will be searching for new learning styles that will fit the students' needs.

"We'll be looking at who learns best visually and who learns best when he hears things. Or maybe a child learns orally but can't write the information down," she explained. "Then we'll fit the curriculum to the child's learning style."

Ideally, methods learned with the three children will be carried over to the entire classroom.

"Our goal is to develop greater awareness for children with learning disabilities," she said.

Abernathy schools will be used as a control, she said, with the teachers there receiving pre-program and post-program testing.

Dr. Giles began work on the training program in 1968 and has worked during the last several years with the program with many school districts in Colorado.

A native of Amarillo, Dr. Giles completed her masters degree at WTSU, where she and Dr. Bush co-authored a widely-used textbook, "Aides to Psycholinguistic Teaching." She was a classroom teacher for 12 years and a reading specialist for four years. She developed much of the materials that will be used in the program.

Working with Dr. Giles are two doctoral candidates. Louadah Waggoner, of Lubbock, specializing in early childhood development, will conduct research on the program with classroom teachers and Carol Haire, of Muleshoe, a speech therapist, will concentrate on the program as it affects supportive personnel.

Canyon is an excellent district to use for a pilot program, Dr. Giles said, because the teachers already are sensitive to the needs of learning disabled students.

"Canyon already has been a pioneer in the state in the education for the exceptional child and West Texas pioneered in the field at the university level," she said. "I think it is natural that a statewide program should start here because of the sensitivity to people with problems that is shown near here."

School superintendent Jerry Jacobs views the program as an excellent way to improve professional skills.

"The purpose is to involve the entire professional staff on a campus in working together, planning and training to help children with learning disabilities," he said.

Jacobs said Mrs. Helen McGill, director of special education, had observed the Giles program in Colorado.

"It seems to be a very good program," he said. "We're pleased." He said he did not have an estimate yet on the cost of the program to the school system.

Jacobs will appear with her on a panel to present the program at five state and national meetings, Dr. Giles said.

Parents at Gene Howe and later at Rex Reeves are urged to visit the schools and to talk to the teachers and see the new materials.

"I am extremely sensitive to parents," Dr. Giles said. "After all, I am a parent."

She has prepared a brochure for parents of children with learning disabilities, listing several definite things they can do to help their child:

—Be sure the emotional climate for the child is warm and supportive. Show your love as well as verbalize it.

—Find out how your husband or wife feels about raising children and then try to be consistent so the child won't get mixed or conflicting messages from his mother and father.

—Be structured. Have meals on schedule, stick to a regular bedtime, have a place to put each thing. This helps a child predict his life.

—When training children with chores, do the task with them and give specific instructions. Instead of saying "go put your things away," say "lets put all your toys in the toy box and hang up your clothes."

—Be calm. Calmness is catching and children become more calm around adults who are calm.

—Provide support concerning homework. If a child needs a tutor, get one. If a junior or senior high student is too old for a tutor, perhaps a bit of "secretarial help" would be beneficial.

—Read to young children and give them a chance to develop fine motor skills by coloring, cutting with scissors and other tasks that requires the uses of finger and eye coordination. Children need a tremendous amount of this work and too frequently they are arriving at kindergarten without the motor development they should have attained in early childhood.

—Just talk to children. Talk about their friends, their fears, how they get along in life. Give some personal time each day to each child.

—Talk to other parents. Find out how they handle different problems. Talk to the child's teacher to see what can be done in the home.

Kiwanians Installed

New Kiwanis officers were installed at a noon meeting here last Friday.

Mike Morris took the oath of office from Kiwanis lieutenant governor Weldon Scarborough of High Plains.

Other officers are Frank Dillard, vice-president; George Ritter, secretary; and Dale Hall, treasurer.

Directors are David Davidchik, Mike Stephens, Jim Davis, Bill Hillen, J.S. Lawrence, Larry Wall, Kenneth Olsen and Benny Cooper.

Kiwanians will emphasize this year "The Younger Years," service programs dealing with children with learning disabilities and "The Greater Years," service programs for the aging and those in pre-retirement years.

Clubs attending the installation included Amarillo, High Plains, South Amarillo, Southwest Amarillo, Dimmitt and Hereford.

Calvary Baptist

To Hear Jim Brown

The pulpit committee of Calvary Baptist Church has invited Jim Brown of First Baptist Church in Chattanooga, Oklahoma to speak to the local church in view of a call as pastor here.

Mr. Brown will speak at church services Friday and Saturday nights at 7:30 p.m. and a church vote will be taken Sunday morning following services.

Worship services Saturday evening will be preceded with a potluck supper at the church at 6 p.m.

A graduate of Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth, Mr. Brown has served the church in Chattanooga for five years and previously pastored at Reagan, Oklahoma; Weatherford, Texas; Painesville, Ohio; and Helena, Oklahoma.

He and his wife, Polly, have three children; Janyne who is married; Jeff, 18; and Andy, 16.

100 Chairs Ready For Sr. Citizens

Canyon Senior Citizens have recently acquired 100 chairs for the new building at 1719 5th Avenue and will be using the chairs there when remodeling is completed on the building.

This week's regular potluck supper meeting for the group will be 7 p.m. tonight at Canyon Community Center, with all persons 55 and older invited to share in the fellowship activities.

The newly organized safety patrol at Rex Reeves Elementary School will take upposts at school crossings tomorrow and motorists are asked to be on the lookout for the sixth grade school guards and to heed their signals. Members include (first row) David

Park Board Sets Meeting

An organizational meeting for the parks and recreation board was rescheduled after the group failed to get a quorum Monday evening. Of the five members, only chairman George Ritter and Mrs. Virginia Cotten attended the meeting. Ritter tentatively reset the meeting for 3 p.m. today.

WT Gets Atlantic Richfield Grant

The West Texas State University Department of Computer Information Systems has received $1,000 from the Atlantic Richfield Company of Dallas. Presenting the check to Dr. Philip Gensler, head of the CIS Department, was Joe Shaw, supervisor of information for management decisions.

According to Dr. Gensler, the money will go for scholarships and equipment. This is the fifth consecutive donation to WT by Atlantic Richfield.

DISSATISFIED in your current job? Many people are actually "under employed." That is, they never get a chance to achieve full professional and financial potential in their jobs. This is not so with the National Motor Club. Our representatives have no limits on their financial income, with the exception of their own ability. Many of our first year representatives have earned $12,000 to $15,000. We have a company-paid profit sharing program and many more benefits. If you are a person who enjoys talking with people, are mature, married and over 21, you have an excellent chance of success with NMC. We have openings in several West Texas cities. STATE OF TEXAS
TO: All Whom It May Concern,
Respondents(s).
GREETINGS:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear and answer before the Honorable District Court, 47th Judicial District, Randall County, Texas, at the Courthouse of said county in Canyon, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of 20 days from the date of service of this citation, then and there to answer the petition of High Plains Children's Home, Petitioner(s), filed in said Court on the 17th day of September, 1975, against unknown father, Respondent(s), and said suit being numbered 14,952-A on the docket of said Court, and entitled 'In the Interest of An Unborn Child, a Child,' the nature of which suit is a request to terminate. Said child was born the 21st day of September, 1975, in Amarillo, Texas.

The Court has authority in this suit to enter any judgment or decree in the child's interest which will be binding upon you, including the termination of the parent-child relationship, the determination of paternity, and the appointment of a conservator with authority to consent to the child's adoption.

ISSUED AND GIVEN under my hand and seal of said Court at Canyon, Texas, this 14th day of October, 1975.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: JOHN HUTSON, or his unknown heirs, devisees, grantees, representatives, executors, administrators, successors and assigns of the said JOHN HUTSON, if he not be living; and L.E. BROWN, or her unknown heirs, devisees, grantees, representatives, executors, administrators, successors and assigns of the said L.E. BROWN, if she not be living. Defendants, Greeting:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable 47th District Court of Randall County at the Courthouse thereof, in Canyon, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 17 day of November A.D. 1975, to Plaintiff's Petition filed in said court, on the 30th day of September A.D. 1975, in this cause, numbered 14,992-A on the docket of said court and styled DONALD BLANKENSHIP and wife, MARTHA CORRINE BLANKENSHIP, Plaintiffs, vs. JOHN HUTSON, or his unknown heirs, devisees, grantees, representatives, executors, administrators, successors and assigns of the said JOHN HUTSON, if he not be living; and L.E. BROWN, or her unknown heirs, devisees, grantees, representatives, executors, administrators, successors and assigns of the said L.E. BROWN, if she not be living. Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: Suit in trespass to try title concerning the title to South 90' of Lots 2 and 3, Block 22, Original Town of Canyon, Randall County, Texas, (except approximate 20' by 25' tract of land out of the Southwest corner of said Lot 3) as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit. If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said court at Canyon, Randall County, Texas, this the 3 day of October A.D. 1975.

He predicted that as the Nov. 4 balloting draws closer more and more public officials will declare their feelings about the proposed constitution and he urged the audience to demand that those who oppose the document outline specifically those sections of the proposal they oppose and their reasons.

He noted that Speaker of the House Bill Clayton, the Texas Attorney General, lieutenant governor, chief justice of the Supreme O'Dell has agreed with his school board that O'Dell will pay the Canyon district for the tax income lost in the land transfer.

Before the land can actually be transferred to the Amarillo district, however, the county school trustees must meet again and redefine the metes and bounds of both school districts.

Jacobs said he will also ask that the trustees more clearly define the motion by Barker in respect to the amount of payments to be made to the Canyon district, should the local board decide not to appeal the commissioner decision.

News Brief

Patsy Britting, assistant professor of nursing at West Texas State University, recently attended the "Conference for the Open Curriculum in Nursing education" in New York City.

Court and many others have come out in favor of the proposal. "I favor all eight of the proposals," he said, "not all the things in them. But on balance the eight proposals on the November ballot are a vast improvement over what we have."

Sherman said the passage of the new constitution will not cost the taxpayers of the state the $11 billion which some have predicted, and, in fact, could save taxpayer money.

He noted that in April, State Comptroller Bob Bullock predicted the cost of the new constitution would be about $11 billion, but revised that figure downward in a new analysis released in September.

The original estimate, he said, included funding for the Texas Water Plan, which in itself today would cost about $22 billion if passed under the present or the new constitution.

"The Texas Research League feels we will have considerable savings if the legislature is able to budget on a regular and orderly basis," he said.

Sherman cited as advantages of the constitution proposals the fact that the language in the document would be clear for lay readers, it would be shorter in length, it would require annual sessions of the legislature, it would strengthen the governor's office by making him the budget officer of the state and by giving him the power to remove political appointees.

The element of accountability in government, he said, is carried throughout the new proposals because budget control is centralized and because state agencies are required to justify their existence on a decade basis.

Sherman debunked the charge by opponents that the constitution would provide for socialized medicine.

He said the constitution only establishes as a goal the attainment of quality health care for all Texans.

The senator urged the audience to vote in the election, noting that as few as 30 per cent of the qualified voters are predicted to turn out for the balloting. In fact, he said, Houston voters, who are to vote on Nov. 4 for city and school board members, too, could cast one-half the total number of ballots cast in the constitutional amendment election.

State Affairs

Meet Attended

Representatives from West Texas State University were among the more than 300 delegates and guests attending the first annual West Texas Conference on State Affairs held recently at Angelo State University.

The delegates from WTSU were Victor Goode, David Green and Larry Lane.

Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe was the keynote speaker for the two-day conference. Other key speakers included U. S. Congressman Bob Krueger, former Michigan governor, George Romney, State Insurance Board chairman, Joe Christie, and Bob Armstrong, commissioner of the state's general land office.

tive duty." "This provision would mean that a disabled veteran, or the surviving spouse, could even own a large manufacturing plant and still not have to pay city or school taxes," she said. "In fact, under the proposed constitution there is no limit to the exemption a disabled veteran could receive."

Mrs. Bruse said the proposition also mandates that taxpayers over the age of 65 be given a tax exemption on a certain percentage of their property values. Currently, the law provides that local governments can, if they so wish, provide the exemptions.

"I've found so many things I don't like (in the proposals) that it has made me suspicious of the whole thing," she said. Randall County commissioners are still considering a pair of proposed resolutions concerning the proposed constitution. One, authored by Judge Woody Pond, calls for the electorate to vote no on the Nov. 4 ballot and affirms the commissioners' opposition to the new constitution.

The other, also authored by Pond, asks voters to vote on election day but does not urge them to vote against the propositions. The resolution explains that the commissioners individually oppose the constitution, however.

Trials Postponed

Three civil trials set originally for this week have been postponed.

A suit involving Jack M. Hudleston and Roy Whittenburg, both of Amarillo, has been postponed in 181st District Court.

Two suits involving principals in Happy Wheel Growers, Inc., have also been postponed in 47th District Court.

Mini United Nations Class Held

West Texas State University English professor Hope McKenzie is presiding over a class this semester whose roll reads like a mini-United Nations. She has students in a basic English class from Vietnam, Japan, Gambia, Venezuela and Mexico.

"The biggest problem," says Mrs. McKenzie, "is finding a way to keep everybody doing the thing which he needs most to do. Some need to speak more, some need to write more, some need to be able to hear better as others talk. To give everybody what he needs is difficult."

Hope McKenzie had practically no preparation for the diverse cultural backgrounds represented in the class. "What we did," she says, "was for everybody to come into class, and then we began to talk. We discussed where they were from, what they felt their particular problems were and a little bit about their background. In the process, we discovered that English was the only way all of us could communicate."

The English language is rife

Square Dancers

Meet On Monday

Canyon Capers Square Dance Club will have a regular meeting Monday evening at Canyon Junior Livestock Building from 8-10:30 p.m. with guests welcomed.

On Saturday, Oct. 25, the dancers from the club will demonstrate square dancing during the American Reflections bicentennial ball at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum. The group will demonstrate at 9 p.m.

At the club's regular meeting Monday evening there were a square and a half of dancers present with Knox Day giving the calls and Louis Thomas calling one tip.

with complications like words that sound alike but are spelled differently. Mrs. McKenzie's answer for problems like that: be prepared to suffer intellectually.

According to her, "Most of them really do have problems with pronunciation, especially the East Asians. The Mexican Americans also have problems, but not quite the same. At least they have some of the same sounds that we use. But if you listen to Vietnamese, the sounds are so different that by the time they get here, all their speech mechanisms have been formed and they simply do not have the equipment, in the beginning, to form the sounds that are necessary to speak English."

One obligation Hope McKenzie has is to attempt to bring the class along as a group. "The one thing that all of them lack is structure of the English sentence," she says. "I have taken that sentence structure and have attempted to use it as a basis for giving all of them an opportunity; some to speak, some to write, some to listen. I think it is really the only thing that we all have in common."

One of the techniques Mrs. McKenzie uses is old-fashioned rote learning. "As they hear each other," she says, "and they hear me, and we go back and forth and over and over pronunciation drills, then they get more confident."

One side benefit of the class is a subtle change in the social scene. "One of the differences," says Mrs. McKenzie, "is that the two Japanese no longer sit together; that is all the time, by design. The two Vietnamese no longer sit side-by-side, and the Mexican nationals are not sitting in a group as they did at first. That's encouraging. It means to me that they're becoming more comfortable with their new language and each other."

also showed the reserve grand champion in the calf division, Hales Emulous Della, at the state fair. The state Angus show had 41 heifers and 62 bulls shown before the judge Mary Griswold of Collinsville, Oklahoma.

Community Classes Pruned To Thirteen

Only about half the classes offered through the community education program attracted enough students to continue, according to Dr. Kenneth Hart, director of vocational education.

Of the original 25 courses offered, thirteen classes are now being held with 209 students participating.

This is an increase in the number of students, Dr. Hart said.

About 25 persons are enrolled in the adult basic education class to complete high school equivalent studies.

Other classes are beginning guitar, crochet, women's physical fitness at Rex Reeves, personal money management, interior design, junior high modeling, beginning sewing, basic drawing, stretch knit fabric sewing, beginning typing, adult modeling and oil painting.

None of the classes offered at Gene Howe attracted enough students to be taught.

Dr. Hart said he had no explanation for the lack of interest at Gene Howe, however, he planned to form an advisory committee there and in Canyon to help choose classes that will interest the community.

The Canyon school district began the community education classes last year and this is the sixth session to be offered.

Graveside Rites Held

Graveside services were held Wednesday morning, Oct. 15, at Garden of Memories at Paducah for Cole Walker, 76, of Canyon.

Mr. Walker died Monday and resided here at 1503 7th Avenue. He was born in Lufkin, Texas August 26, 1899 and had been a resident of Canyon for six years. He was retired from a maintenance position with T-Anchor Apartments and was a member of First Baptist Church of Abilene.

Local arrangements were handled by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors of Canyon and interment was handled by Norris Funeral Home in Paducah.

He is survived by his widow, Mary; a son, Robert A. Walker of Houston; four brothers, Jack of Paducah, Deward of Amarillo, Darden of Little Rock, California, and Rev. W. D. Walker of Bethany, Oklahoma; and two sisters, Earline Davidson and Nota Hanks, both of Abilene.

Canyon Community Concerts Association members were on hand to bid a fond farewell to the "Little Angels of Korea" ballet dance troupe as they continued their cross country tour of America.

Dr. Early Named Director For WT Economic Education

New director for the West Texas State University Center for Economic Education is Dr. Allen Early, WTSU assistant professor of economics, of Amarillo.

"We appointed Dr. Early director because of his long acquaintance with the business community in this area," said Dean of Business Albert R. Mitchell. "The purpose of the center is to increase the economic understanding of public school teachers so they may impart this knowledge to their students," Early said.

The West Texas State Center for Economic Education is one of only five such centers in the State of Texas. It is affiliated with the Texas Council on Economic Education and the Joint Council on Economic Education on the national level. The WTSU center has offered summer workshop programs to public school teachers to enhance their teaching ability in economics.

According to Dr. Early, the center is planning an in-service training program this spring which is tentatively entitled "Utilizing Economic Understanding to Explore Bicentennial Themes."

Dr. Early traveled with WTSU Economics Department Head Barry Duman to Las Vegas, Nevada to attend the annual meeting of economics council and center directors Oct. 5 through 8. The meeting was sponsored by the Joint Council on Economic Education.

The annual tour is held each fall by one of the member universities.

The National Block and Bridle Club has local clubs of the Department of Animal Science at Agricultural Colleges in all states, and will hold its annual meeting in Chicago during the International Livestock Exposition on November 29.

Rites Are Today

Memorial services for Dr. R.C. Whitmill, 56, were conducted in Macomb, Illinois this week and burial will be today at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, Texas.

Dr. Whitmill was a professor of education at Western Illinois University and formerly had taught in the education department at West Texas State University in the late 1960's.

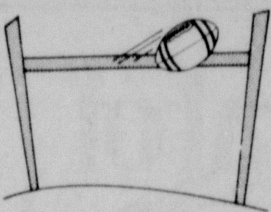

A public school teacher earlier, Dr. Whitmill had taught in Texas public schools at Tyler, Gonzales and Kerrville. He earned his undergraduate degrees at Southwestern Texas State University in San Marcos and the doctorate degree at Texas Tech University.

He is survived by his wife, Lucille; two sons, Mike of Columbia, Missouri and Jeff of Lubbock, Texas; and two grandchildren. He was a brother-in-law of Royal Brantley of Canyon.

*Except Alaska and Hawaii

Our weekend One-Plus rates are so low that you can talk awhile and still spend less than a dollar. For instance, a five-minute coast-to-coast Long Distance call dialed direct all Saturday and Sunday until 5 p.m. is only 86¢. An out-of-state call spanning fewer miles costs even less. If you can't wait till the weekend these same low rates are in effect every night from 11 p.m. to 8 a.m.

Where One-Plus dialing isn't available, One-Plus rates apply on station calls. If you dial direct and reach a wrong number, call the operator. You won't be charged.

Travel by Long Distance... and stay awhile.

At WTSU Nursing Isn't Just A Class

Senior students Jacine Bellah and Jerri Jensen, both of Canyon, visit with Watkins in the High Plains Baptist Hospital snack bar during a break from their intensive care unit work.

High Plains Baptist Hospital intensive care unit is the current assignment of Canyon senior Edward Briles of 2304 B 6th Ave.

In the junior and senior years, nursing is more than a major at West Texas State University, it is a profession.

Graduates of the WTSU baccalaureate nursing degree program will have devoted more than 1500 hours outside the classroom to learn how to take care of all age groups in many different crises. This is in addition to the six to nine hours each week of classes.

"The first semester juniors study the normal developmental crises," says team coordinator Betty Henry, "or the normal events that occur through a person's lifetime. One of the clinical experiences is maternal child nursing."

During this semester the students are assigned to an expectant mother who will deliver within a few months. They go with her on her visits to the doctor, to the delivery room and then care for her after the child is born. In addition clinical experiences are provided in the obstetrical area in the hospital. The juniors also visit newborn nurseries, day care nurseries, public schools and rest homes to familiarize themselves with the normal developmental tasks of all age groups.

"Junior students are taught how to assess patients health needs and to observe what is normal for an individual in certain age groups," Mrs. Henry says.

The second semester of the Area Ag Meet Here Oct 18-20

The American Association of University Agricultural Administrators will meet in the Amarillo-Canyon area Oct. 18 through 20, according to West Texas State University Agriculture Dean Charles Smallwood.

This is the second annual convention of the agricultural administrators of those universities associated with the American Association of State Colleges and Universities. More than 30 agriculture administrators from throughout the nation are expected to attend.

"The primary purpose of the organization is to provide a vehicle for sharing ideas and exploring problems that non-land grant institutions have in common," said Smallwood, who is AAUAA vice chairman for membership and promotion.

The convention, to be held at the Quality Inn, is being hosted by West Texas State University and Texas Tech University. The schedule begins with a tour of Iowa Beef Processors, Texas Tech Research Farm, an irrigated farm and feedlot. Seminars will include agricultural courses for elementary teachers, agriculture programs at WTSU, committee reports and future plans.

Congressman Jack Hightower will be the speaker at the banquet, scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. in the WTSU East Dining Hall on Oct. 19.

On Oct. 20, Texas Tech Dean of Agriculture A. R. Bertrand will speak on "The Changing Role of the State University."

The convention will adjourn at noon Oct. 20.

Junior year deals with caring for patient experiencing events in their life cycle. By this time, the students are spending 24 hours each week in hospitals and other health care facilities.

"We emphasize total patient care in this semester," Mrs. Henry points out. "The students learn how to deal with the less complicated conditions that may occur."

They are assigned to medical, pediatric and psychiatric units for three eight-hour shifts each week. Selection of patients for care is made in relation to course objectives.

Situational crises is the emphasis of the senior year in nursing.

Senior students care for the critically ill patient, and learn the more complicated nursing procedures," Mrs. Henry says. Time is spent in emergency rooms, coronary care and intensive care units, assisting in the treatment of patients admitted to these areas.

During the last semester of their senior year students are given team leadership experiences with the guidance of an instructor in the hospital setting. Nursing experiences in community health centers are also provided during this semester.

Grant For Computer Info Systems

For the fifth year, the West Texas State University Department of Computer Information Systems has been awarded a grant from the AMOCO Foundation.

The $2,000 amount was doubled in size this year, according to Dr. Phil Gensler, professor and head of the CIS department.

Except that the amount be used to support the activities of both students and faculty, the grant is unrestricted, he said.

Part of the money will be used to provide scholarships to deserving CIS majors and part will be used to support faculty attendance at professional meetings and seminars so that students will continue to be aware of the latest developments in computer technology, Dr. Gensler said.

"AMOCO has been a consistent employer of graduates of the CIS department and has been very complimentary in their comments regarding the performance of these employees on the job," Dr. Gensler said.

Last spring AMOCO hired Marty McCaghren, a graduate of Amarillo High School and the WTSU CIS department and Robert Thorp, a Dumas High School graduate, math major and CIS minor at WTSU.

"This kind of support of the academic programs by industry enables the CIS department to maintain its reputation for providing its majors with an education in tune with the needs of industry," Dr. Gensler said.

Townsend's Paper Presented

West Texas State University Professor of History Charles Townsend presented a paper on Bob Wills Oct. 10 at the national meeting of the Western Historical Association in Tulsa, Okla.

Townsend is a 1975 Grammy Award winner for his album notes on "Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys for the Last Time." He also received the 1975 Western Heritage Award from the National Cowboy Hall of Fame.

Entitled "Bob Wills and Western Jazz: The Tulsa Years 1934-42," the paper covers what Townsend considers Wills' greatest years. During that time, the Wills Band evolved from a six-piece string band to a swing orchestra of 18 musicians. Also while in Tulsa, Wills composed and recorded his most famous composition, "New San Antonio Rose," made his first movies and developed a national reputation, according to Townsend.

This is the second paper on American folk music Townsend has presented at the national historical meeting. In November 1974, he read a paper on Southern protest music at the Southern Historical Association meeting.

The Western Historical Association will meet in the Mayo Hotel beginning at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 10. Western historians from universities in every section of the United States and Canada will be in attendance.

Census Survey

A sample of households in this area will take part in the Federal Government's annual survey on education to be taken next week by the Bureau of the Census.

Interviewers will visit homes to obtain information about the number of school years completed by household members. There will also be questions about the number of children attending nursery school or kindergarten.

Questions on education will be in addition to those asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

The survey provides a continuing measure of conditions in the labor force. The August survey found the nation's employment situation little changed from July. The unemployment rate was 8.4 percent, after declining from the second quarter recession peak of 8.9 percent. Total employment was 85.4 million in August.

About 68,000 households across the country, scientifically selected to represent a cross section of American households, take part in this monthly survey. All information provided the Bureau is confidential by law and can be published only as statistical totals in which no individual or household can be identified.

BSU Exes Plan Reunion

Ex-members of the West Texas State University Baptist Student Union will meet Oct. 18 at 1 p.m. at the Baptist Student Center on Fourth Avenue for a Homecoming reunion.

A bus will leave the center at 1:30 p.m. for the WTSU Buffaloes vs. Drake University Bulldogs Homecoming football game at Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

Bill Webb, center director, said that the center has reserved tickets in Section D. Exes should send money and pick up the tickets at the BSU.

Persons holding tickets to the game may eat barbecue free from 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Oct. 18 on the grounds between the Cornette Library and Terrill Hall.

An informal dinner and program will be hosted by the BSU at 7 p.m. for ex-members.

The center has reserved the High Plains Campground between Canyon and Amarillo at the cost of $1 per person. Exes may spend the night in the First Baptist Church Canyon cabin and dormitory and the campground. Persons must bring bedding.

Calvary Baptist and the First Baptist Church of Canyon will hold special Sunday School classes on Oct. 19 for exes.

Shower Gifts Are Bestowed

Miss Cynthia Mickey was honored with a miscellaneous shower Thursday afternoon, Oct. 9, in the home of Mrs. Foster Amburn with guests being greeted and registered by Mrs. Amburn.

The honoree and her mother were presented with yellow mum corsages. Refreshments of coffee, punch, cookies, mints and nuts were served by Wanda Woolsey, Pauline Fox, Bonita Christian and Sheryl Lyles.

A cutwork cloth covered the serving table and the honoree's chosen colors of brown, orange and yellow were carried out in the flower and candle arrangement which centered the table.

An electric skillet was presented the honoree as the hostess gift from hostesses including Mrs. Don Woolsey, Mrs. Pauline Fox, Mrs. A.B. Lyles, Mrs. Jackie Christian, Miss Debbie Hamm and Mrs. Amburn.

With New-Found Offense, Canyon Will Try Dumas

Before the game started, two Dumas Demon coaches sat in the Dick Bivins Stadium press box, sipping soft drinks and joking with other scouts.

Demons couldn't hide their feeling that Canyon would fare far worse against the ranked Palo Duro Dons that night than had the Demons in a first-game go-round with the Dons earlier this season.

As the final gun sounded last Friday night at Dick Bivins Stadium, the two Demon coaches gathered their papers, stacked their bottles neatly, and filed from the press box silently.

This week end the Demons will test the mettle of the new-found Canyon Eagle offense, a mettle proven last Friday night as the Eagles fought the Dons to a 20-20 standoff tie.

For the Demon scouts, the game's ending must have been an eye-opener. Dumas was beaten 20-0 by the Dons early in the season.

For the Eagles, the game's ending was also an eye-opener, as coaches and players realized they had played the 10th ranked AAAA Dons, boasting a triple-threat backfield, not only to a tie but to a finish which rightly should have found Canyon victorious.

"We played good," Coach Deane Wright said this week after viewing the game films from last Friday's game. "We really did."

The problems which had plagued the Eagle offensive unit in earlier games had disappeared during the Don outing. Backs held onto the ball, players refused to be caught in penalty-producing situations, and without the mistakes the offense clicked as Wright had predicted.

"We didn't execute so much better than we have in the past," he said. "The problem in the past has been that we missed blocks, or we fumbled the ball or we got a long penalty."

A key to the come-back offensive effort, however, Wright says, has been the spirit and confidence of starting Quarterback Allen Shankles, who is also student body president at CHS.

"Last spring I gave him a copy of our play book and he studied it all summer," Wright says. "He knows the offense as well as the coaches. He understands what went wrong the minute it goes wrong."

Shankles' confidence, Wright says, "has held us together." If confidence and spirit helped bolster the offensive unit to their best performance of the year, some outstanding individual efforts on the team also helped boost the Eagles.

Lynn Schmidt, center, for example, posted a 98 per cent grading on the game, a score almost unheard of in high school football.

"He blocked that guy every time," Wright said of Schmidt.

"It beats anything I ever saw."

Another key blocker on the offensive unit singled out for praise by Wright was Cliff Adams, who graded in the high 80s.

Defensive players who were praised by the coach include Kenny Basinger, who held Don rushing around his end to a net of only 2 yards Friday night, Bob Lee, now back in action after a sprained ankle, Drew Hetzler, and Ronnie Howell, who was injured in a horse accident Sunday but is expected to play Friday night.

When the Eagles take the field in Kimbrough Stadium for their outing at 7:30 p.m. Friday against the Demons, they'll be facing a team with a trio of good backs, but a mid-weight line. "Dumas plays good defense," Wright said. "They're hard to block."

Wright said the Demons are the second team the Eagles will have faced this year to use extensive lineman stunting.

"They vary their defense so much it makes it real tough," he said.

The Demon offensive unit will feature the running of Race Copeland, a 190-pound fullback said by Wright to be quick. Gayland Fry, a 150-pound tailback, and Curtis McCandless, a wingback, are also expected to keep the Canyon defensive unit busy.

Dumas runs from a slot I formation, and Quarterback Randy Strickland has favored the ground game rather than the air route this season.

Canyon's defensive unit should be back to full strength for the game with the return of Lyndon Brazile and Joe Luquette, both sidelined last week due to their health.

The return of the pair relieves runningback Jack Wright for a return to the offensive unit, where he will probably start along with fullback Jonathan Hull and Gary Ward.

So far this season, the Demons stand 2-4, with losses to Palo Duro (20-0), Pampa (21-14), Borger (6-0), and Plainview (7-0). They have beaten Tascosa and Liberal, Kan.

Free TB Tests

The Health Department will be giving TB tests in the Sheriff's Office beginning at 10:00 a.m., October 16. This is a voluntary test, and any of you who would be interested in this program are urged to participate.

TOP KICK — Todd Looney, a sixth grader at Rex Reeves, will compete Saturday in Oklahoma City in Punt, Pass and Kick competition. Eleven-year-old Looney won the Canyon PP&K contest two weeks ago in his age group and last Saturday he defeated competition in the Amarillo zone meet. Looney has been the Canyon champ for the past three years and placed third and second in previous zone competition. He is a member of the Kids, Inc. Canyon No. 2 football team. He is the son of Mrs. Charles Hatch.

WTSU Profs To Publish

An article co-authored by Dr. Philip Gensler, professor and head of the West Texas State University Computer Information Systems, and Dr. John Grillo, assistant professor of CIS, has been accepted for publication. Entitled "SHIC — An Interactive Hypothetical Computer," the article will be published in the summer 1975 issue of the Association for Educational Data Systems Journal.

Drake Challenges Buffs In Homecoming Match

Drake University will bring another nationally ranked running back to Kimbrough Stadium this week as West Texas State University welcomes back its ex-students in the annual Homecoming game Saturday afternoon (Oct. 18).

Both Drake and WTSU bring 1-4 records into the 2:30 p.m., CDT, clash. The game will be broadcast on the Shamrock Network for West Texas Football starting at 2:15. Warren Hasse and Doug Rains will describe the action.

Fullback Jim Herndon ranked 11th in the nation in rushing last week with an average of 120.6 yards per game, and he kept the average up with 122 yards in the Bulldogs' 27-24 loss Saturday to rival Northern Iowa.

Buffalo coaches hope Herndon won't have the same type day this week as another nationally ranked runner did in the mountains of northern Utah last weekend. Utah State's Louie Giammona, the NCAA rushing and all-purpose running leader a year ago, gained 165 yards and scored the winning touchdown in the Utah's 21-17 win.

The game was almost a carbon-copy of the 1974 contest between the two schools. In that one, West Texas State had a 16-7 lead in the fourth quarter before USU's comeback. Last Saturday, the Buffs held a 17-7 lead with just under nine minutes to go.

The game had started out to be a Buff runaway. WT scored the first time it had possession (a one-yard pass from Tully Blanchard to Jeff Lloyd), and again scored early in the second quarter on Robert Mayberry's one-yard run to take a 14-0 lead into the dressing room at halftime.

"We get to see another back like (Utah State's Louie) Giammona this week in Herndon," says Buff defensive line coach Jerry Behrens. "We really hadn't played against any super backs like those two until this week, but I'm afraid we're getting our fill of them."

Herndon just has super quickness and great vision — he really knows where to go," Behrens also had praise for the Drake quarterback, Jeff Martin.

"Their quarterback is a lot like some of the quarterbacks that we have been playing," he said. "His passing gives them great balance, and that puts a lot of pressure on the defense."

Offensive backfield coach Jim Dawson of the Buffaloes assesses the Drake defense as an effective unit: "Year in and year out, they have a real physical defense. They have an outstanding noseguard in Bob Burges, Mark Spivey is all-conference material at defensive end, and tackle Gary Melchoir is a real good football player. Their secondary is always strong and aggressive. Their line stunts a lot, and if your offensive line can pick up the stunts, you have the opportunity at least for some big offensive plays."

The Buffaloes have ranked all year as the Missouri Valley's best defense against the run. WTSU opponents are averaging only 204.2 yards per game, just ahead of Wichita State and New Mexico State in the rankings. The Buff defense is third in passing defense and second in total defense.

The Buffs could be in better shape for the injury roll for the annual homecoming outing. Defensive tackle Floyd Jones missed much of the Utah State game with a recurrence of his ankle problem, strong safety Michael Kelson played much of the second half on a bad knee, and starting tight end Keith Oxley missed the trip entirely with a pinched nerve in his neck. All are expected to be ready for Drake.

In Drake this week, the Buffs will meet a team against which they have had good success in the recent past. West Texas State took a 37-17 decision in Des Moines last year, and WT has won the past two games in the series to take a 4-3 lead.

Lloyd's insertion at tight end against Utah State figures to be WT's only main lineup change.

He's Terrific By The Pound

Mike Lozano, West Texas State's senior weak safety from Amarillo, says he never thinks about his size during a football game.

If he did, he might keel over. At 5-7, 155 pounds, Lozano has performed tremendously at just about any position he has been requested to play. "Pound for pound, Mike might be the best football player in the country," says his defensive backfield coach, Ronnie Mankin.

Head Coach Gene Mayfield agrees. "I don't see how you ask such a little guy to do more," he reasons.

What Lozano has done for the Buffs defensively this year is amazing. He's third on the team in tackles, despite playing in the secondary, and his performance last week against Utah State was typical.

He intercepted two passes deep in WT's end of the field to stop USU drives, made a touchdown-saving tackle on Utah receiver Kory Coles, and was credited with 16 tackles (seven solos, nine assists). All of this, and he was playing in a make-shift secondary depleted by injury.

"Mike has a super knowledge of the game," explains Mankin. "He's a good student of the game and really knows what is going on out there. Saturday, he was able to recognize what was coming, got good position, and bailed us out twice with big interceptions."

Lozano is as versatile an athlete as you'll find on the Buffalo team. He was a high school quarterback at Amarillo Caprock, teaming with Buff teammate Clois Burgess on a district championship unit. As a WT freshman, he played just about every position for Mankin's yearlings, moved to a receiver's slot as a sophomore, and settled in the defensive backfield last year.

Mankin's explanation for Lozano's play is as shopworn as they come, but it still fits the situation perfectly.

"He's just got a great heart," is the word. "Mike has a lot of athletic ability, but he improves on it by being such a fierce competitor."

Lloyd, all-Missouri Valley last year at tackle, moved to tight end after Keith Oxley was hurt in the U.T. Arlington game.

Otherwise, the Buff backfield should be the same for Drake. Tully Blanchard, the engineer of two long scoring drives against Utah State, will remain at quarterback with Bo Robinson at fullback and Robert Mayberry and Anthony Dogan at the halfbacks.

Robinson is the team's leading rusher of the year with 174 yards on 44 carries, while Mayberry is second with 161 yards on 48 totes.

After Saturday's game, the Buffs will take the next week off to prepare for strong Northeast Louisiana on Nov. 1. The next home game will be Nov. 8 against MVC rival New Mexico State.

Come Home To Wayside

By MARY NEAL HENRY
WAYSIDE HOMECOMING
IS scheduled for Sunday, October 19. You are invited to attend Sunday School and Church at the Wayside Community Church, to eat basket lunches at the church and to the program which will begin at 1:30 p.m.
Mrs. Roland Moore is program chairman for this year. Mary

Billie has chosen the theme,
"Highways are Happy Days
When They Lead the Way to Home." Be in Wayside this Sunday.
CLARENCE TODD, 79,
died October 11, in a Plainview

Hospital. He had been ill for some time. Services were conducted October 14th, at 11 a.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Tulsa.
Burial was in Tulsa beside his first wife, Margaret, who was the mother of their six children. A son, Jack, also preceded Clarence in death.
Clarence and his family have lived southwest of Happy for many years. Papa Todd had said he came to this country when grass was "stirrup high" to a horse.

Clarence is survived by his

THE SECOND NATIONAL Beef Cook Off in Denver recently was won by Oklahoma. Second went to Arizona and third to Utah. For those of you who have the thirty two winning state recipes, mark the best ones as you try them.

The competition was won by Mrs. Betty Morrow of Woodward, Okla. Here is that recipe:

Sweet 'N Sour Beef Chuck
3 pound beef chuck roast
Garlic Powder
Coarse ground pepper
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons cooking fat
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 medium onion
1 1/2 cups water.

Sprinkle both sides of roast with garlic powder and coarse ground pepper. Flour both sides and brown in fat in large frying-pan or Dutch oven. Sprinkle cinnamon and allspice on meat. Add onion and water. Cover and simmer on top of range or cook in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 2 to 3 hours or until tender. Remove onion and discard. Remove meat and reserve cooking liquid.
Remove fat and bone from meat and cut meat into large bite-size pieces. Place on a hot serving platter. Prepare sauce* and spoon over meat. Serve with hot rice and garnish with fresh mint.
6 to 8 servings.

SAUCE
Cooking liquid from meat
2 cans (13 3/4 ounces each) pineapple chunks
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/2 cup vinegar
1/4 cup soy sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1 can (2 1/4 ounces) sliced mushrooms
1 can (8 1/2 ounces) water chestnuts, sliced
1 large green pepper, cut in thin strips
1 cup thinly sliced red onion
Hot cooked rice
Fresh mint

Add water, if necessary, to cooking liquid to make 1 cup.
Drain pineapple, reserve syrup.
Combine sugar and cornstarch;
add pineapple syrup, vinegar,
soy sauce, salt, mushrooms, water chestnuts, and cooking liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Add pineapple, green pepper and onion and cook for 2 minutes.

Have a Good Day!

Bill Andrews inspects Happy's ambulance before a run.

Donated Ambulance Tops

Volunteers operating a donated ambulance are providing the Happy community with its first regular ambulance service.

Members of the Happy
volunteer fire department run the service. The vehicle, a 1961 Buick in excellent condition, was donated in May by Schooler-Gordon Funeral Home in Canyon, in return for advertising the firm's name on the ambulance.

"It's really been great for us," said Bill Andrews, Happy's fire chief and one of the two certified emergency medical technicians serving on the ambulance runs.
"The town has really been interested."

Before they got the ambulance, Canyon or Tulsa ambulances answered emergencies in the community.

"We can pick up someone around town and be at the hospital in Canyon or Tulsa before their ambulance can get here," Andrews said.

The fire department had a panel truck equipped as a makeshift ambulance and was shopping for a standard ambulance vehicle when the department was offered the surplus ambulance by Bill Hunter of Schooler-Gordon.

Using mostly the equipment from the old panel truck the Happy fire department equipped their ambulance with about $3,- 000 worth of emergency apparatus.

More Happy News

JOHN EDWARD FROST is a new arrival to our community.
He was born October 8 at 12:07
p.m. and weighed 7 pounds, 1 ounce while measuring 20 inches in length.

John's proud parents are Lynn and Melba Frost and he has one sister, Larissa Dianne. The grandparents are the John Toles and Jack Frosts, also of Happy.

Patients are billed by the city for the service.

"We need to charge for two reasons," Andrews explained.
"For maintenance on the vehicle and to replace and add equipment. That's the only reason we charge and it goes in a separate ambulance fund."

"The men don't get anything.
They are volunteers."

"We're planning another Red Cross school to try to certify the rest of the department. Or as many as want to," Andrews said.
"Just because a man is a fireman doesn't mean he has to serve on the ambulance. Not everybody can take that kind of thing."

However, Andrews said all the members of the Happy department have helped so far on the ambulance.

Since they got the vehicle, the department has sponsored one emergency first aid course for attendants, which graduated 11 men and 4 women. At first there were four certified emergency medical technicians with the department, but one person let his certification expire and a second took a job as an ambulance attendant in Amarillo,

Andrews said.

"The men think it's great," he said.

Right now, the ambulance and the fire numbers are the same, and the entire 15-man department is alerted for an ambulance call.

However, the department is installing a radio alert system, which will place individual receivers with each fireman.
Then ambulance duty will be rotated probably every week, Andrews explained.

Normally, a driver and two attendants make each run.

The service answered its first call on May 18 at 1 a.m., when a prisoner knifed himself during an attempted escape. Since then, the ambulance has been on the road steadily, with ambulance calls far outnumbering fire alarms.

In addition to emergency calls, the department stands by with the ambulance at Happy football games and at the many rodeos held at the Happy arena.

American Revolution's First Shot Topic

John Childs addressed the University Study Club Friday afternoon as he discussed the "first shots fired in the American Revolution."

The traditional miniature branding iron bearing initials USC was presented to the speaker by Mrs. Truett Hull, club hostess, who had introduced Mr. Childs earlier.

A "town crier's report" was given by Mrs. Jozach Byrd who discussed a summer trip to Virginia and showed pictures from a restored 200-year-old mansion there. The club's monthly "minuteman forecast" was presented by Mrs. Gene Morrison.

Mrs. John Childs, club president, presided during the meeting and a discussion pertaining to the Federated Club Dinner on November 10 was given by Mrs. Allen Winters. The club's responsibility for that event is to provide the speaker, entertainment and salads for the evening.

Last minute reports pertaining to the "Harvest Home Tour" were given by the chairman, Mrs. Ray Eller, and a report on the "country kitchen" was given by Mrs.

Weldon McClure. The meeting was concluded with home captains meeting with their hostesses for last minute instructions before the tour on October 12.

The overall monthly meeting for October had a Texas theme with a pledge to the Texas flag being led by Mrs. Tom Keeling. Mrs. Nolon Henson distributed packets of bluebonnet seeds to each member of the club and discussed the proper planting time and care of the state flower.

Refreshments for the afternoon carried out the Texas motif with a cake decorated like the Texas flag being served. Accompanying the cake were a "red eye" punch, cheeses, crackers with a blue centerpiece decorating the table. Hostesses were Mesdames Gene Morrison, Bob Brotherton, Dudley Moore and Allen Winters.

Next regular meeting for the club will be November 14 when guest day is observed. The meeting will be in the auditorium of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum with a quilting demonstration and display highlighting the afternoon.

The Reader's Theatre group will be presenting readings with an American Bi-Centennial theme in the lecture room of the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum throughout the evening of October 25 as a part of the American Reflections bi-centennial ball. Readers in the group from left are: Kathy Ann Shofner, Richard Birkenfeld, Melody Brown, Joe Sherrod and Lou Ann Fulcher.

Umbarger News

By REBA RAE
ST. MARY'S PARISHONERS would like to let all members of our little community know that they are most welcome to help us with our annual German Sausage Festival, which will be held on November 9th.

We will make sausage on Thursday, Nov. 6th at 8:00 a.m., in the parish hall. Then, on Saturday, Nov. 8th, at 1:00 p.m., we will peel potatoes and do many other small jobs to ready our dinner for the next day. So, if you would like to help us, please feel free to come and help. We'd love having you.

JERRY GERBER, SHIRLEY Skarke and Nicole, took Otto Skarke to Oklahoma City last week to attend funeral services for his sister-in-law, Mrs. E.W. Skarke. The funeral was held last Monday, Oct. 6th and they returned home on Wednesday. Our sympathies to the Skarke's.

LAST SATURDAY EVENING, Carl and Helen Klueskens of Dawn, were honored with a surprise party in their home for their 25th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the party were their four children, Linda and Tom Brown; Beverly and Mike Adcock; Dale Klueskens and Sandra Klueskens.

Attending from Umbarger were Max and Rose Hoffman, Dennis and Marcella Brandt, Edie and Armella Wiecek, Leonard and Helen Batenhorst, W.P. Janssens, Carroll and Allen Adams, Dianna and Clifford Adams and Don and Susie Dolle, from Canyon.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON, BILL Gerber was honored with a birthday dinner in his home by his family. Attending were Tom and Joyce Gerber and family and Glen and Vickie Gerber and family from Dalhart; Mrs. Jerome Friemel and children, from Hereford; Billy and Suzanne Gerber and children, from Dumas; Don and Carol Gerber and children from Claude; Jim and Carolyn Wiecek and children from Hartley; Linda Gerber from Amarillo; and Kenneth Gerber and Lynette Melius from Dalhart.

CARDS FOR THE Festival are in the process of being mailed, and if anyone fails to get his, please call Shirley Skarke or Gertrude Grotgert.

THE LADEAN HOME was the scene of a birthday party held last Sunday afternoon for Jollette and Danny Adams and their cousin, Bud Griffin.

Danny's and Bud's birthday was Saturday and Jollette's was Sunday.

Those present for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Max Hoffman, Mrs. Kenneth Adams and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Adams and family, Mr. and Mrs. Darroll Adams and family and LaDean and Anna Adams and family.

BELATED "HAPPY BIRTHDAY" to Marcella Brandt, whose birthday was Oct. 10th; to Amalia Bracht and Bill Gerber and Gertrude Friemel, whose birthdays were Oct. 14th and to Jerry Gerber, whose birthday was Oct. 15th.

THE KNIGHTS OF Columbus and their ladies enjoyed a card party last Sunday evening in the Columbus Club. Games of "double cup" and "88" provided the entertainment and refreshments were served.

WT's Book For Buffs

Getting Golden Spread citizens involved and interested in West Texas State University's Cornette Library is one of the most important goals of WT's Books for Buffs Drive, says WTSU Director of Development Keith Winter.

"The first part of our fall drive will be to send a brochure to about 20,000 business and professional people in the Panhandle area to acquaint them with what is in the Cornette Library that will be of use to their jobs. It will tell how to use the library and encourage them to do so," Winter noted.

"Not many people realize they can use the WT Cornette Library for only a $3 yearly charge," he continued.

The Cornette Library maintains an extensive collection of occupational magazines, newspapers and state and federal documents within its more than 1 million items of information that will enhance any professional person's career or business, Winter said.

The second part of the fall campaign will be involved specifically with the acquisition of books, he continued.

"A really outstanding university starts with its library and its book collection," Winter observed. "We began the Books for Buffs Drive to insure that West Texas State students, and all the citizens of the region the university serves, have the best and

Fiola's Have Baby Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fiola, Jr. of Havenwood Circle in Canyon announce the Oct. 10 birth of a daughter, Jinger Kate, at Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon.

The baby girl weighed 8 pounds, 6 1/2 ounces and measured 21 1/4 inches at birth. Her father is a police officer with the Canyon Police Department and the mother was formerly a physical education teacher and assistant with the Canyon Public Schools.

The Fiolas have another daughter, Jori Elizabeth, 20 months. Grandparents are Bunk Phillips of Farwell, Billie Phillips of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fiola, Sr. of Azusa, Calif.

Gardeners Spend Weekend On Mountain Foliage Tour

The October meeting of Canyon Garden Club was conducted in the mountains of New Mexico with a session at the E. T. Cummings cabin at Eagle Nest.

Twelve members of the local club attended the session during the week end which included a tour of foliage in the mountains with colors reported as "breath-taking."

The annual festivity included joint attendance at Sunday morning church services in

Model Meet For Chapter

The Alpha Theta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a meeting Mon., Oct. 13 in the home of Mrs. Steve Hines, 1206 4th Ave. The "Model Meeting" was especially for the fall rushers.

The business meeting was conducted by Sue Lewis, president, with reports from the officers and committee chairmen.

Palo Duro MILs Conduct Meeting

The Palo Duro Mother-in-Law Club met October 10 at the home of Jewell Crawford for their October session with Gladys Haines, president, in charge.

After a songfest of club songs, Nell Sheets presented the prayer and devotional and members answered roll call with "habits I'd like to change." A treasurer's report was given by Mrs. M.J. Noel.

The afternoon discussion included a summary of favorite materials and colors for fall.

Next meeting for the club will most relevant works in their fields.

The goal of the campaign is to raise $1 million in books, whether through donations of money or of scholarly collections. The Texas Legislature recently gave WT $400,000 for books, leaving the drive a substantial goal of $600,000 to achieve. More notable donations to date include $2,400 from State Senator Max Sherman from his Governor-for-a-Day funds and a 4,000 volume collection of WTSU retired English Professor Mattie Swayne Mack.

Winter also plans to contact the parents of WTSU students to request they donate $15 or more to purchase a book in the honor of their child, or whosoever they wished.

"We will be placing bookplates in the volumes purchased or donated by individuals which will commemorate the person of their choice," Winter concluded. "And the donations are tax-deductible."

Variety Ring Has Needlework Here

Variety Ring members met recently at the home of Alice Black for an afternoon of needlework and visiting.

A brief business session was conducted during which time the club secretary noted that the club had participated in several fund drives during recent months including support for the Ricky Valdez Fund.

Readings were given by Mesdames Earl Burtz, J. P. Hammons, Leonard Winters, and Levi Cole during the meeting. Winning the "guessing box" was Nancy Boyce.

A Halloween motif was used in decorations at the refreshment table where Mrs. Black's daughter, D'Jelma Smith, assisted. Club guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Gerald of Houston and Mrs. Arthur Olson of Canyon.

Members present includes Mesdames: Alice Black, Nancy Boyce, Earl Burtz, Levi Cole, E. P. Harding, J. P. Hammons, Laura Hartman, Mae Johnson, Lydia Matsler, Fred Marshall, Leslie Neal, Ann Weaver, and Leonard Winters.

Fashions Change With Season

By JACKIE WILSON
Ladies fashions have long been an intriguing subject to both men and women. While the Greeks and Chinese believed that man first covered his body for some physical reason, particularly to protect himself from the elements, we generally agree that women had something else in mind!

Woman adorned herself in flowing fabrics, drapes, cascades, ruffles and bows. True, her clothing protected her from the elements but it also added a touch of mystique and elegance. Fashions for both men and women have denoted numerous attitudes throughout the centuries - power (political costumes), authority (warrior and military uniforms), wealth and religious significance. Costumes or fashions had basic dictates such as climate and economy (especially the availability of fibers), but imagination has always played an important role in fashion and fashion design. Ladies found that they could spend their leisure time doing handwork of various kinds to adorn their costumes. At various periods, handmade lace, embroidery of various types, tucks and ruffles, on both outer and under garments, were status symbols for the lady.

During our two centuries in America, we have seen ladies fashion evolve from the very soft feminine look to the tailored masculine look in repeating cycles.

In 1776 the lady was adorned in a costume featuring a low-cut neckline softened with ruffles or lace, fitted bodice, billowing sleeves and full gathered skirt widely exaggerated at the hipline with the use of crinolines.

By 1790, necklines had risen, skirts were still full but not as exaggerated as a few years before and sleeves were long and closely fitted to the arm.

In the early 1800's women again "bared the bosom," this time raising the waistline to what we know as the "empire" and skirts were soft and flowing. The short puffed sleeve was defini-nitely!

Around the 1820's, the empire waistline was still with us but the neckline was again on the rise, long sleeves were back - many with the puff remaining at the top and a fitted lower portion (variations of the leg-of-mutton sleeve which evolved into the Gibson girl sleeve). Is that an ankle? Not quite - just the foot, hemlines raised to just below the ankle.

About 1850 the waistline was settling back to the waist, bodices were fitted, skirts flounced as never before and the train was definitely a hit. Layers of skirts with lace, ruffles, braid, beadwork and ribbons were a must.

Slight changes occurred within the next few years - the bustle reappeared and vanished as did the exaggerated skirts and fashions which required the help of a handmaid to aid the lady in dressing.

Early in the 20th century a trend began which has not stopped since. Milady was tired of the confinements of corsetry and needed more freedom for her varied activities (some ladies even played sports!). Skirts were on the rise. The fashion of the teens incorporated the traditional long lean lines with modified skirts and sleeves.

The fashion of the 20's and early 30's were very straight and loose fitting. Soft fabrics decorated with elaborate designs in beads, braid, lace or fringe was the order of the day. A new fashion find - man-made fiber became especially important for undergarments and stockings. Other impressive fashion hits were the peplum, the ultra-padded shoulders of 40's and tightly fitted skirts of the 50's.

Today's woman can choose and wear whatever she wishes. She is free to choose the skirt length she desires and may wear anything from a softly draped dress to a tailored pants suit. Designs are continuously changing. Memory fades and in times a fashion is revived from the past, only to be challenged the following season.

Americana Bazaar Set

"Arts Americana" has been selected as the theme for an arts and crafts bazaar to be sponsored by Heritage Woman's Club in mid-November at Canyon Community Center.

The bazaar has been scheduled for the afternoon of November 14 and throughout the day on November 15 with individuals and organizations invited to participate.

Booth spaces will be rented on the following schedule: 8' x 12' for $8; 8' x 10' for $10; or 8' x 12' for $12.

Reservation of booth spaces and further information on the project may be obtained by contacting either Darlene Hollibaugh, 655-4020 or Janie Louder, 655-4042.

An 1870 brown silk dress featuring hand embroidered trim is modeled by Stephanie Mehas beside a Wainscot chair dated 1850 at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum. The fashion will be among those presented Saturday, November 1, in a "fashions from the past revue" to be staged at the Museum as a part of the Museum Week observance here.

An 1897 black and blue brocade silk with black ribbon trim is modeled in a Victorian setting by Elaine Hardin in preparation for a museum fashion show to be held Saturday afternoon, November 1, as a part of National Museum Week observance here.

What A Weekend!

By KAROLYN FARMER
EVERY FALL FOR the past several years I've begged and pleaded with Kyle to take me to the big Texas-O.U. game in Dallas. Last week end my wish finally became a reality—and I may never recover.

You just haven't lived until you've spent an hour and a half in bumper to bumper traffic getting to the stadium and then another 30 minutes looking for a parking place.

Then, of course, there was the long walk from our car through mobs of football fans and fair-goers. By the time we found our seats, I was dying of thirst. So then I had to stand in line for 20 minutes to get something cold to drink.

The game really was exciting and the stadium itself was just a sea of orange and red "noise". Our seats were in the end zone where "Little Bevo" was kept. There was even more excitement during halftime when an overzealous O.U. fan ran onto the field and sprayed the huge bull with red paint.

Following a long walk through the exhibits and booths at the state fair, we again joined the long lines of cars leaving the fairgrounds.

Saturday evening Kyle and I took in one of those gorgeous restaurants that Dallas is famous for. The restaurant itself was decorated like nothing I had ever seen - multi-level with big wood beams and plush red carpet. The steaks were the "melt in your mouth" variety and the prices were extremely reasonable. (Of course, when you're just paying for two instead of the usual five people, anything seems reasonable).

The ride home seemed endless. We stopped at one of the fruit stands along the way and bought the kids some sugar cane, since no self-respecting parents can come home from a trip empty handed.

I guess Big "D" is okay, but our "Little Home" is sure good to get back to.

BARBARA AND JIM Melton, Jamye and Marty also enjoyed the big game in Dallas last week end. The Meltons stayed in Fort Worth with Linda and Richard Barker who moved there from Amarillo a couple of years ago. (Linda and Barbara are sisters).

DOT FORD, LYNN Gill and Ellen Wilson will serve as hostesses for the October 16th meeting of the North Plains Association for Children with Learning Disabilities.

The meeting will be at the First Christian Church in Amarillo at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Tom Cannon, Dr. Bill Erwin and Dr. Joe Garms will present the program.

Dr. Cannon and Dr. Erwin teach psychology at WTSU. They, along with Dr. Garms, have opened a new clinic for children with learning disabilities which is located in Medi-Park.

Parents are also urged to attend the District XVI Teachers' Meeting, Friday, Nov. 7, at 1:30 p.m. This meeting will also be held at the First Christian Church and Mrs. Virginia Kurko will be the featured speaker. Mrs. Kurko is a diagnostician for the Fort Worth public schools and is also the parent of a learning disabled child.

At 10:00 a.m. on Oct. 21, Gene Ann Grant will host a discussion group for all mothers of LD children. The address is 4406 Tawney St. in Amarillo.

The Kid's Inc.-Kiwanis soccer team for LD children will meet at the North Amarillo Kiwanis Park on Saturday, Oct. 11. Larry Wilson is serving as team coach. You may call him at 383-4779 if your child is interested in playing soccer.

DONNIE TRAMMELL WAS host to a surprise birthday party for Carl Henry last Friday night. Also attending the slumber-less party were Eddie Vance, Tod McKee, Jay Tipps, Steve Wilson and Doug Lill.

Just for a little added excitement, the guest of honor cut his finger on the springs of the Trammell's trampoline and had to be rushed to the hospital emergency room for a few stitches.

THOSE TALENTED TWINS, Troyce Mulhern and Joyce Thompson, both have paintings which were chosen for the Best of the Southwest exhibit. Troyce's painting, entitled "Lifeline" features a rustic windmill. Joyce's painting of two Siamese cats is titled "He and She". The art exhibit is sponsored by the Amarillo Fine Arts Association.

tion and will be on display at Western Plaza through this Saturday.

SUZELLA PARSONS' SIXTH graders were busy last Friday designing and decorating an "Enjoy Nature" display for their room. As I entered their room, Andy Reagan, Steve Wilson and Carl Henry were all tacking pictures on the bulletin board.

The children are involved in a study of the Ecosystem, which is a study of everything living and non-living in our environment. In the coming weeks they will take part in experiments such as observing the rusting of iron filings and the life processes of various plants.

One bulletin board in the room featured a big haunted house. Debbie McKinney was adding the finishing touches to a jack-o-lantern to be placed alongside the haunted house. Several other children in the room had already contributed pictures of ghosts, witches and a werewolf to the Halloween display.

Decorations for the entire room are centered around the Halloween theme, with lots of pumpkins, jack-o-lanterns and witches. On one wall hangs a big, indescribable "monster" with the caption, "Welcome Ghouls".

The boys and girls in Mrs. Parson's room have been working on advertising campaigns as part of their English unit. Several of the children were putting the final touches on their posters which are designed to encourage everyone to improve the surroundings around their school.

Kevin Oliver's poster pointed out that, "Even Snoopy Stays Out of the Bedroom," while Tanya Brown's poster reminded everyone not to run in the school halls.

Another bulletin board in the room pictures a broom-riding witch and the words "Witch's Tales". Mrs. Parsons told me that the children would begin work the next week on writing original "ghost stories".

The latest birthday celebrants in Mrs. Parson's room are Frank

Shoplifting Charged
A package of throat lozenges cost a WTSU student $50 after he was arrested Saturday for shoplifting the tablets from Ideal Food Stores.

Jeff Andrew Montgomery of Stafford Hall 22 pleaded guilty to theft valued at less than $5 in municipal court Monday and was fined $50 by municipal court Judge Harris Hampton.

Stewart, who was 12 on Oct. 12, and Steve Hall, who will be 12 on Oct. 27.

FOOTBALL SCORES FOR this week: The 4th grade team defeated Lawndale by a score of 12 to 0; the 5th grade boys were victorious over Eastridge by a score of 24-6; the 6th graders lost their game to Ridgecrest, 6-0.

LATE HAPPY BIRTHDAY wishes go to Jay Knight, who celebrated his 9th birthday on Sept. 28 during his stay in the hospital. Jay received a special cake from the nurses.

Jay has now returned to school, but will be using a wheelchair and crutches for some time to come.

Halloween Carnival Needs More Witches

The annual 'Halloween Carnival' sponsored by Canyon Study Club is in need of a few more "witch booths and fun projects for entertainment of Canyon's youngsters," says Mrs. Sandra McRoberts, CSC carnival representative.

"We need some fun booths for this event to keep our kids occupied and having fun, rather than being out on the streets and into mischief," she further emphasized.

Presently signed up for booths at the carnival are the following organizations: Canyon Dames with a nickel throw; Les Amies Juniors with an apple bobbing booth and Raggedy Ann; University Study Club with a popcorn machine; Alpha Theta Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority with a cake walk; Randall County Home Demonstration: Council with a foods booth featuring frito pies, cake, coffee and soft drinks; Canyon Lions Club with a Bingo booth; Girl Scout Troop 122 with a clothes pin and ring the bottle booth; Delta Zeta sorority with a popcorn ball and candied apple booth; and the Senior High United Methodist Youth Fellowship group with an undesignated booth at present.

"We hope to get some more fun-type booths entered this week and each organization arranging for a booth will be required to select their own Halloween Queen candidate from among Canyon Junior High School girls," related Mrs. McRoberts.

The queen's contest is judged by a penny-vote system and the winner will be crowned as a highlight of the carnival on Thursday evening, October 30.

Booths are rented for 25 percent of proceeds and those to contact for reservation of a booth are either Sandra McRobert, 655-4005; Mattie Wall, 655-2070; or Judy Becknell, 655-4007. All booths should be arranged for by early next week.

Nutrition Workshop

Breanna Rapstine, nutrition consultant of Dairy Council, Inc., an affiliate of the National Dairy Council, conducted a nutrition education workshop for about 75 students at West Texas State University Tuesday morning.

The workshop was for methods classes of Dr. Carl Pride with Dr. Enid Bates attending.

Among those bringing the "Pioneer Village" to life for the American Reflections bi-centennial ball on Saturday evening, Oct. 25, will be Mrs. Joseph Findley, left, and Mrs. Elton Cox, right. Invitations are out and tickets for the special evening are selling at $10 per couple.

Siesta Noticias

By DORIS MCKEE
HERE WE ARE once again to see if we can pick up on all the latest happenings out Siesta way.

My, oh my, aren't we having nice weather! The days are most pleasant, even with the wind and these nights are such good sleeping.

WANT TO SAY Happy Birthday to Christy Hoffman who was eight on Sunday October 12th. She celebrated on Friday October 10th with a party from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m.

Those attending were: Eve Roberts, Delia Jolley, Andrea Sizemore, Melanie Arnett, Christy Thomas, Lori Kitten, Carla Tolbert, Toni Jones and DeAnn McKee.

The party decor was carried out in a Halloween theme and cake and ice cream were served. They played pin the tail on the donkey and first prize was won by Melanie. The girls then spent some time jumping on the trampoline. Seems everyone had a good time. Christy is the daughter of Jon and Diana Hoffman.

FRIDAY NIGHT TOD McKee attended a slumber party at Donnie Trammell's. All the boys that attended decided to make it a surprise birthday party for Carl Henry who had turned 12 earlier in the week. All the boys went skating and just had an all-round good time.

TALKED TO IRENE Weatherly this week. She and T.C. had returned recently from a two-week trip to Mountain Home, Arkansas where they had enjoyed their kids and grandkids. Both their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Weatherly, Debbie (18) and Michael (13) and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Rogers, Robin (9) and Kealy (2) live there.

Irene said the weather was so nice and that the cabin she and T.C. had was completely surrounded by big trees. She said the foliage was really turning as

Last Thursday Irene and T.C. drove over to Childress where they visited with Irene's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Murray, also Irene's mother Mrs. R.L. Murray. They enjoyed the visit very much, but will really enjoy the beef they brought home with them.

JON, DIANA, MARTY and Christy Hoffman really did enjoy having Jon's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hoffman of Kiowa, Kansas visit this weekend. They came on Saturday evening and stayed through Monday. They had spent Friday night in Borger with Jon's brother and family, Tony and Cheri Hoffman and son Adam.

CALLED WANDA COFFELT to see how things were over there. She, Thomas, Carl, Michael, Connie and Janet had been to her brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eder, for dinner and to visit with an Aunt and Uncle, Ike and Annie Cole and family of Lamar, Colorado. Wanda's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Eder were also there.

Ike and Annie's sons, Rodney, Ronnie, Frankie and Ralph (Spud) spent the afternoon, Sunday with the Coffelts.

PECK AND FAYE Risner, their daughter and son-in-law, Cheri and Barry Henson and Buck (Peck's brother) and Joan Risner loaded up Peck's van Friday evening and headed for Marietta, Okla. to spend the weekend. There they visited with James Jr., Lee, Heather and April Risner.

Peck, Barry, Buck and James Jr. tried their luck at fishing, but as I heard it, their catch was too small to report.

While the guys were out casting those fishing poles, Faye, Joan, Cheri, Lee, Heather and did some shopping. Everyone had a great time and Faye said they always love being with their grand daughters.

SEEMS TODAY WE lose another tenant. This time we lose to Roswell, N.M. Roscoe, Sharon and Brent Shipley are leaving us. Roscoe is the new General Merchandise Manager at Furr's No. 30 in Roswell. We want to wish them well in their new adventure, and hope they'll come back to see us sometime.

NOW FOR THE football report of Sunday Oct. 12th. The 6th grade boys played Ridgecrest at 2:00 p.m. at the Gene Howe field. Tod McKee was very high spirited that him and his team would come out the victors. They took the field and played beautifully. Each team putting forth every effort, failed to score. With only a couple of minutes remaining in the game, Ridgecrest broke free and scored a touchdown. Our boys were able to hold them from making the extra points. And so the end of the game showed Ridgecrest 6 and Gene Howe 6th - 0.

We have one more game and probably the toy bowl. Better luck next week boys.

The 5th grade team played Eastridge Sunday at 4:00 p.m. at Gene Howe field. Mickey Bays, who plays on this team was very excited as he and his teammates blasted out a 24 to 7 victory.

JAMES JONES, ALBERT and Katie Rinne, myself and several others from Siesta, did attend the PTA meeting at Gene Howe on Monday night, Oct. 13th.

I sincerely hope each and every parent here in Siesta will show an interest and support the school that helps in educating your child.

TIME FOR ME to lay aside the pen but all willing and the creek don't rise, I'll be back next week, so keep on reading.

Thought for this week, "When you have a problem don't just grin and bear it, smile and solve it."

See ya.

Bi-Centennial Fashions Optional For Ball Here

The American Reflections bi-centennial ball later this month will feature "fashions of the past" on an optional basis for participants, according to Mrs. Keith Winter, entertainment chairman.

"Folks won't be out of place in cottons, gingham, or whatever," related the chairman. "An informal judging will occur during the evening with awards to be given in four different categories for both men and women on an individual basis."

Categories will be in heirloom attire, panhandle frontier days, authentic copies, and best overall bi-centennial theme.

All judging will be done on an informal individual basis during the evening by judges including: Ples Harper, Charlotte Brantley, Mrs. B. Raymond Evans of Tulsa, Olive Bugbee, Jim Kimmerling and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Moore.

Those with "heirloom" costumes for the Oct. 25 ball have been asked to contact Mrs. Patrick (Margaret) Kelso at 655-7516 so that recognition ribbons will be ready at the door that evening.

Arts Workshop Monday For Creative Projects

A Creative Arts workshop is set for Monday, October 20th from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

The workshop will be held at the Farm Bureau Building, 1714 5th Avenue in Canyon and is open to the public at no charge. It is sponsored by the Randall County Family Living Committee and the Home Demonstration Council Recreation Committee.

The workshop will feature six demonstrators.

Needle point, crewel embroidery and latchhook will be demonstrated by Ruth Wilcox, with the Merribee Company.

Liquid embroidery will be taught by Marcie Grabber and Lucille Robinson.

Modge or Fun Podge, showing the Calico Cat and Gingham Dog, will be taught by Mrs. Ruth Hughey, County Extension Agent for Armstrong County.

Macrame will be demonstrated by Judy McNeill.

Fabric Flowers will be demonstrated by Becky Hall, Randall County Extension Agent.

Bring a sack lunch if you choose to work through the lunch hour.

All workshops will be going on at the same time throughout the workshop time from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Faculty Wives Salads Tonight

Faculty Wives, Etc. will host a salad supper this evening, Oct. 16, at the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon.

Beginning at 7 p.m., the supper will be served from tables featuring an Indian decoration theme. The hostess committee headed by Maureen White and Donna Umerson will have assistance from co-hostesses including Mesdames Dorcus Byrd, Reva Williams, Nancy Hair, Barbara Wilson, Joan Carlson, Donna Harper, Jan Smith and Julie Revis.

Claud Zevely, associate professor with the Department of Education at West Texas State University, will be the after-dinner speaker.

Rural Homemaker's Events Scheduled For Area Women

Six Canyon women have already made arrangements for attending the 13th annual Rural Homemaker Day in Amarillo on October 23.

Sponsored by the Women's Division of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, Rural Homemaker Day has been designed to honor all community spirited women living outside of metropolitan Amarillo and will be held at the Villa Inn Convention Center at I-40 and Grand St.

Activities begin at 9:30 a.m. with coffee and registration. Points on the program will be a cheese bar provided by the Dairy Council, Inc., floral demonstrations and a noon luncheon with Rev. Leon Hill as featured speaker. A number of city merchants are providing door prizes and other treats for the visitors.

Over 500 invitations have been mailed to home demonstration women in a five-state area. Those presently registered to attend from Canyon are Mrs. Claude Currie, Mrs. Cristler Crain, Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. Warren Thompson, Mrs. W. D. Walker and Mrs. O. C. Free. Other local women should confirm their invitations with reservations to the Amarillo Chamber promptly.

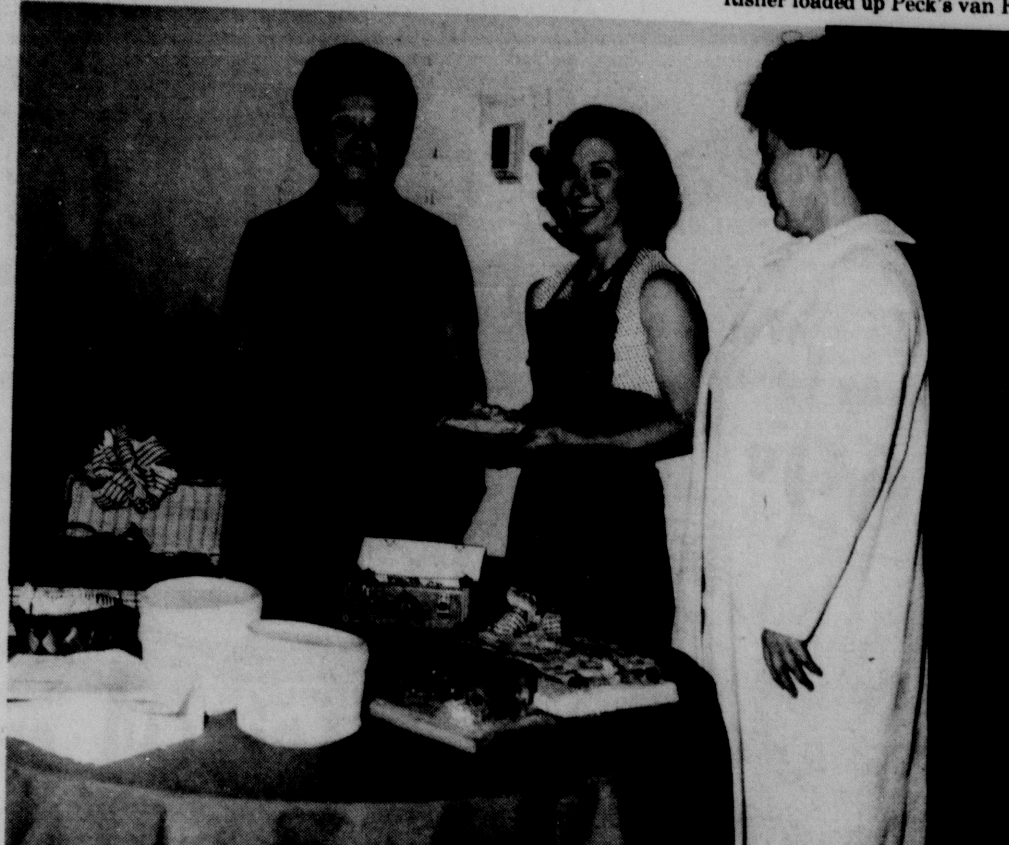

Hobo Party

A "hobo party" was held Saturday, Oct. 11, at the Canyon Airport by Alpha Theta Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Members and guests played games and enjoyed refreshments. Guests for the evening were the fall rushees and their husbands.

Rushees and husbands attending were: Joe and Bonnie Kraai, Ken and Sandy McDonald, David and Susan Friemel.

Members and their husband attending the party were: Eddie and Charlotte Baker, Gary and Carol Clark, Kenny and Linda Conway, Steve and Mary Alice Hines, Sue Lewis, Theresa Lewis, Terry and Donna Pittman, Ricky and Debbie Richardson and Hugh and Vicki Simmons.

Mrs. E.L. Hardaway, left, was the recipient of a "chocolate pie" prepared during the Festive Foods demonstration given by Diane Bim, home service advisor with Southwestern Public Service Company. The program on foods was presented Thursday (morning and afternoon) at the Farm Bureau Building with county extension agent, Becky Hall, right, representing the Randall County Family Living Committee and Home Demonstration Council which sponsored the programs.

Home Tour Exceeds Past Efforts

Sunday's Harvest Home Tour almost doubled past efforts by the University Study Club of Canyon, according to Mrs. John Childs, president.

"We had 732 go through the homes this year and with the proceeds of almost $400 on the 'country kitchen' it made this our best ever home tour," she stated.

The 16th annual home tour included the homes of Bob Damon at 8 Bramblewood Lane, the Robert Warren home at 1102 Hillcrest Drive, the Burwell Southern home at 8 Bramblewood Lane and the Clinton Glenn home at 1113 Creekmore.

"When our expenses are deducted we'll have more profits than ever before on the home tour," related Mrs. Childs, "and all of the money will remain right here for scholarships, our hospital and library projects."

"We may even take on some new worthy causes this year," she concluded.

Heart Dollars Aid Locals

"Money raised by the residents of Canyon for the American Heart Association comes back here in many ways," relates Mrs. Lee Reeves of the local unit. "Since 1948 almost $230 million has been raised nationally in Heart Fund dollars for research," she related. The AHA allocates 57 percent of its national budget to research and state affiliates allocate an average of 1/4 of their budgets toward research. "At the present time there are 17 people in the Canyon Community who have had open heart surgeries," emphasized Mrs. Reeves. "Without these heart dollars to find the causes, cures, treatment and prevention of diseases of the heart and circulatory system these successful operations would not have been possible."

A good portion of the Heart Funds raised each year is spent on public and professional education to reduce premature death and disability from cardiovascular diseases.

Our educational programs inform folks of the risk factors, proper weight and exercise programs and the need for regular medical examinations and thus they know the early warning signs of a sometimes fatal attack, emphasized Mrs. Reeves.

All local clubs, organizations, school groups, etc. may have access for the public education films of the Heart Association to use for programs and may contact Mrs. Reeves, 655-3688, for information on ordering these films.

The Heart Fund dollars are also used in continuing education programs for physicians, nurses and paramedical personnel. Current information relating to diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation is provided these groups through films, conferences and publications.

Mrs. Betty Henry, professor and team coordinator of the School of Nursing at West Texas State University, states that these training materials are invaluable in the training of nursing students in cardiovascular care.

The nursing students at the university also aid the Randall County Heart Unit with blood pressure clinics for the public and details regarding the next free blood pressure clinic will soon be announced.

"We used to have a door-to-door campaign for raising funds," related Mrs. Reeves, "but in recent years the Bike Cyclethon fund-raising project of the local unit has met with tremendous success."

Band Parents Realize $ On Calendar-Meal

Canyon Band Parents realized $1,500 on birthday calendar sales recently and an additional $650 from the homecoming spaghetti supper.

Public support of the band projects is greatly appreciated as the funds raised in this manner go toward future support of the outstanding band programs of the schools here.

Winners in the various bands on the spaghetti supper included Becky Kreegar, high school; Mark Miller and Kelly West, a tie, in symphonic band; Joe Holladay, Greg White and Tim Seth, a three-way tie in concert purple band; Kelvin Summers for concert white band; Troy Adams for Rex Reeves brass band; Tiffany Cartwright for Rex Reeves woodwind band; and Devon Marshall for Gene Howe band.

Tuffy Thompson settles his rope around the horns of a steer, showing the skill that earned him the title this year of World Champion Steer Roper.

Tuffy Ropes 'Em For Rodeo Prize

By LAURIE TELFAIR

If you can settle a rope around the horns of an 800 pound steer, flip him to the ground and tie three of his feet together, all in about fourteen seconds, you've got a good chance of taking home some rodeo money.

That's the opinion of Roy "Tuffy" Thompson of Happy, who has won enough events to be named this year's World Champion Steer Roper, the second year he has held the title.

Thompson captured the title last month in the world finals in Laramie, Wyo., winning with a 14.3 second run. He will receive a saddle emblazoned with the year and title and an embossed belt buckle at the awards presentation held in December in Oklahoma City.

Thompson, originally from Stinnett, has been competing in rodeos since he was six years old. He was named top cowhand at the National High School Rodeo in Sulphur, La. in 1951.

That was his first title.

"I think I was prouder of that title than I am of the one I just won," Thompson said.

The steer roping championship is based on winnings and Thompson was the top earner this year, with $6,121, nearly 500 points ahead of the second place winner, and within a few dollars of his total in 1973, when he first captured the title.

Steer ropers earn less than other cowboys, Thompson explained, because very few rodeos include the event. For one thing, a large arena is required for steer roping, which is the reason the finals are held in Laramie rather than at the indoor rodeo in Oklahoma City with the rest of the finals.

Thompson competes frequently in steer roping jackpots, which often carry larger prizes. However, jackpot wins don't count toward the championship. He also enters calf roping and, before he injured his knee, competed in bull dogging.

For him, there is more to rodeos than prizes and titles.

"The thing I like most, I guess, is the way everybody helps the other fellow," Thompson said. "They'll tell you how a particular steer will run and if you get a horse crippled, they'll lend you a horse."

Thompson said he won the title year before last on a borrowed horse, after his was injured. The right steer roping horse is very important, he explained.

"About 60 to 70 per cent of winning is having a good horse," he said. One of the main qualities needed is courage to withstand the punishment when the steer hits the end of the rope.

"It jerks a horse pretty hard," Thompson said, showing a photograph of his horse at the end of a run, with all four feet twisted in the air with all four feet off the ground. That horse regained his balance and held his steer, Thompson recalled.

Rodeos are a family affair, with the Thompsons hitting the rodeo circuit for nine weeks in the summer. His wife, Judy, and youngsters, Roy Dew and Jobeth, cheer from the sidelines and Judy serves as driver and secretary, making sure entries are posted on time.

They traveled as far as Oregon this year before returning to their home outside of Happy in early September. This winter, Thompson plans to enter the indoor rodeos, competing at San Antonio, Houston and Denver.
